

THE NEW YORK HERALD—daily newspaper—published every day of the year except New Year's day and Fourth of July. Price 2 cents per copy, or $7 25 per annum—postage paid in advance.

THE WEEKLY HERALD—published every Saturday morning—price 6 cents per copy, or $3 12 per annum—postage paid in advance.

ADVERTISERS are informed that the circulation of the Herald is over THIRTY THOUSAND, and increasing fast. It has the largest circulation of any paper in this city, or the world, and is therefore the best channel for business men in this city or country. Price moderate—cash in advance.

NEW YORK LANCET, published weekly, price 12 cents per single copy—8 cents by the quantity. The price of this valuable periodical has hitherto been too cheap, in comparison to its utility, intelligence, and workmanship. It has, therefore, been advanced to $5 per annum for one year—$4 for a half year—12 cents per single copy—cash in advance, and postage paid.

REVOLUTIONARY RELICS, or LETTERS addressed by distinguished men to George Clinton, formerly Governor of New York, during the Revolution, and first published by permission of his grandson, Col. Beckman. A beautiful octavo edition in numbers—price 12 cents each.

THE ATHENEUM, A NEW MONTHLY JOURNAL OF AMERICAN AND FOREIGN LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND THE FINE ARTS—Each number adorned with a beautiful engraving—price only 12 cents each.

PRINTING of all kinds, executed in the most moderate prices, and in the most elegant style.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT, PROPRIETOR OF THE HERALD ESTABLISHMENT, North-west corner of Fulton and Nassau streets.

To Advertisers. For the information of business men and of the public generally, and as a guide in the selection of the best channel for advertising, we place before our readers the following facts:

NEW YORK HERALD. Sent Office, N. Y., Aug. 29, 1842. Messrs. PERSE & BROS.: Gentlemen—Place to be delivered at the Sun Office, N. Y., five hundred copies per week, for six months from the 1st of October, 1842. The price of this quantity, size and weight, the same to be paid for in cash every two weeks.

Also 600 copies per week of the large size 34/64 for the Weekly Herald, for one year from this date, to be of quality equal to this specimen. Payments to be made each week in cash, in full for the week.

JAMES G. BENNETT. Aug. 31, 1842. We accept the above terms, Wm. M. S. Beach, draughtsman for J. G. B. directed.

By these documents it will be perceived that the circulation of the NEW YORK HERALD, is nearly double that of the NEW YORK SUN, and that it is, consequently, so much the more an eligible channel for all kinds of advertising and business notices.

Not a further word is necessary to satisfy the public.

JAMES G. BENNETT. Father Miller's Great Camp Meeting. Is now published in a splendid EXTRA HERALD, in the quarto form, being a full account of each day's proceedings, for ten days, of the Second Advent believers, in Newark, including their sermons, songs, prayers, &c., together with the sayings of the Rev. Mr. Miller, and his converts, illustrated with three beautiful engravings, a portrait of the Prophet, and several scenes on the camp ground. Price 6 cents per copy—4 cents by wholesale. Newsboys look out. This brochure exhibits human nature in a new, rare and original shape, far superior to all the flimsy fancies of Boz. It is fact, more wonderful than fancy.

FOR NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA AND NEW YORK LINE OF PACKETS. For the better accommodation of shippers, it is intended to dispatch a ship from this port on the 1st, 10th, 15th, 20th, 25th, and 30th of each month, commencing the 1st of October, and continuing until May, when regular days will be appointed for the remainder of the year, whereby great convenience will be prevented during the summer months. The following ships will commence this arrangement:

Ship	Agent	Departure
Ship O'CONNOR, Captain Jackson.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 1
Ship LOUISVILLE, Captain Hays.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 10
Ship SHAKESPEARE, Captain Miles.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 15
Ship HUNTER, Captain Miles.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 20
Ship HUNTSVILLE, Captain Mumford.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 25
Ship NASHVILLE, Captain Dickinson.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Oct. 30
Ship MEMPHIS, Captain Knight.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 5

These ships are all built in the city of New York, express for packets, are of the first class, and are fitted up with the most comfortable accommodations for passengers, and are fitted up with the most comfortable accommodations for passengers, and are fitted up with the most comfortable accommodations for passengers.

OLD LINE LIVERPOOL PACKETS. (THE OLD LINE of Packets for Liverpool) will henceforth be despatched in the following order, excepting that when the day of sailing falls on Sunday, the ships will sail on the succeeding day.

Ship	Agent	Departure
THE SOUTHAMERICA, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 1
THE ENGLAND, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 10
THE OXFORD, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 15
THE EUROPE, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 20
THE NORTHAMERICA, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 25
THE NEW YORK, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Nov. 30
THE CAMBRIDGE, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Dec. 5
THE COLUMBIA, N. Y. Liverpool.	Wm. M. S. Beach	Dec. 10

Old Established Passage Office, 61 SOUTH STREET. The subscriber is announcing his arrangements for the year 1843, and is desirous of procuring for his friends and acquaintances the most comfortable and convenient mode of travelling to and from Liverpool, and is desirous of procuring for his friends and acquaintances the most comfortable and convenient mode of travelling to and from Liverpool.

County Court. Present Judges: Usher, Inglis, Ingraham, His Honor the Mayor, and the Hon. the Recorder, and Counsel.

Nov. 22—This Court met at 12 M., according to adjournment. Mr. Parker was in Court, but looked very pale, as if he had been ill.

The examination of witnesses was resumed. JUSTICE TAYLOR—By Mr. BRADY, in a number of instances, found upon the book the names of persons deceased, without any officer or magistrate name attached to them. Don't know whether there were charges in the possession of the keepers or not. I have a list of men, eight prisoners, who were detained after their trial, and regular discharge, and that, too, in the month of April, 1839.

Mr. Jas. BRADY—I reside at 299 Spring street, in the sixth ward, in the City of New York, and was a witness at the trial of the late prisoner, and saw a man named Philip Mulka, who I saw John Bentley vote at that poll on a challenge. I did not know him previously; I have seen him since, and he was there as a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

Cross examined by BRADY—Bentley was under arrest when I saw him at the upper police.

Mr. Wm. CALLENDER—I am one of the clerks in the lower ward of the City of New York, and was a witness at the trial of the late prisoner, and saw a man named Philip Mulka, who I saw John Bentley vote at that poll on a challenge. I did not know him previously; I have seen him since, and he was there as a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

Direct resumed.—On application for discharge of a vagrant, who had been committed to the City Prison, and was a witness at the trial of the late prisoner, and saw a man named Philip Mulka, who I saw John Bentley vote at that poll on a challenge. I did not know him previously; I have seen him since, and he was there as a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

A—I am unable to answer the question. (This question was probably a set-off to a question put by the other side, and was not answered.)

Several other discharges were here shown to the witness to ascertain in whose hands they were filled out in, and by whom signed, and their dates.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

The Court here adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Four o'clock session.—The counsel for the prosecution called for one or two witnesses, who were not present. The counsel then said they rested.

Mr. Lord, for the defence, moved for a discharge of the prisoner, and stated his reasons, protesting against any further delay. The Court, after some discussion, refused the discharge, and the prisoner was committed to the City Prison.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

The Court here adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Four o'clock session.—The counsel for the prosecution called for one or two witnesses, who were not present. The counsel then said they rested.

Mr. Lord, for the defence, moved for a discharge of the prisoner, and stated his reasons, protesting against any further delay. The Court, after some discussion, refused the discharge, and the prisoner was committed to the City Prison.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

The Court here adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Four o'clock session.—The counsel for the prosecution called for one or two witnesses, who were not present. The counsel then said they rested.

Mr. Lord, for the defence, moved for a discharge of the prisoner, and stated his reasons, protesting against any further delay. The Court, after some discussion, refused the discharge, and the prisoner was committed to the City Prison.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

The Court here adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Four o'clock session.—The counsel for the prosecution called for one or two witnesses, who were not present. The counsel then said they rested.

Mr. Lord, for the defence, moved for a discharge of the prisoner, and stated his reasons, protesting against any further delay. The Court, after some discussion, refused the discharge, and the prisoner was committed to the City Prison.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

The Court here adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock, P. M.

Four o'clock session.—The counsel for the prosecution called for one or two witnesses, who were not present. The counsel then said they rested.

Mr. Lord, for the defence, moved for a discharge of the prisoner, and stated his reasons, protesting against any further delay. The Court, after some discussion, refused the discharge, and the prisoner was committed to the City Prison.

Justice Taylor recalled.—I attended the examination of John Bentley, on the 5th of April, 1842. Brewer was a challenge to the City Prison, and was a witness on the matter before Judge Taylor and Mayor Morris. I know it was the same whom I saw voting whom I saw at the trial.

WAR MOVEMENTS. OF THE BRITISH NEWSPAPER PRESS. ON THE AMERICAN PRESS, MORALS AND POLITICS.

(From the Liverpool Mail.) THURSDAY, Nov. 3, 1842. Death of Channing—By the Liverpool Mail.

It is amusing to observe how little talent is required to form a great man in the United States. America, and how a globe of gelatinous matter, floating in the moonlight, can be metamorphosed into a star of the first magnitude. This arises perhaps from the fact that America has no any really great men; and therefore it is necessary to worship imaginary ones—these are the gods of America.

A Unitarian preacher and modern moralist of the name of Channing, whose writings are not altogether unknown in England, has been the subject of a satire; and the inhabitants of New York, who are a lively, or rather fussy people, and who never miss an opportunity for display, whether of fun at a funeral, or of a grave procession at a wedding, have had a great deal of tears and light squabbles over CHANNING'S remains.

The subject that more particularly invites our attention consists of the services, connected with the funeral sermon preached, in honor of the deceased, by a person styled Mr. Bellows. The name is worthy of the language of the poet, for nothing is so overcharged an instrument of this kind could have done justice to the great man and the greater cause. We cannot, we dare not attempt to do full justice to the ceremonies which took place at the funeral of the deceased.

Break from his throne, illustrious man! Attend, O earth, his sovereign word! Restore to truth, the glorious form! Shall then arise, to meet the Lord.

Now for BELLOWS and his sermon. Speaking of CHANNING, his eulogist indulges in a strain which is hardly to be surpassed in the world. It is dashingly seasoned with blasphemy. The worm is made God, or, what is the same thing, God and the worm are coequal. Man is divine; the divinity of man only becomes questionable, when man ceases to be a man.

So what a wonderful is that mortal. The public read and admired those great and fundamental truths to which he was never false. This is his judgment upon Napoleon, as it were, the final Judge. He writes of Milton, of Shakespeare, of the great poets, of the great men of vision in all his ages. He seems to us to proclaim not what he thinks, but what he knows, and we are reminded in all his words of the words of Jesus: "I speak not of mine own authority, but of the authority of the Father."

First, then, CHANNING is compared to the "final Judge." Secondly, he decides for posterity. Thirdly, he is declared to be equal to Jesus Christ; and his language is not inferior to that of the Bible. It is further added that—

CHANNING SAW GOD IN OTHER MEN, because he saw his own image in them. He was a man of vision, and he was a man of action. He was a man of vision, and he was a man of action. He was a man of vision, and he was a man of action. He was a man of vision, and he was a man of action.

It is difficult, from this mass, to separate the ludicrous from the blasphemous—the definite from the indefinite filth. We have not dipped into so nasty a dish for many days. We shall give one or two more extracts, and conclude. CHANNING, did not doubt of the certainty of the triumph of human nature. Christianity was his means, and he believed human nature and God's providence to be synonymous.

What the "moral influence" of man has done for the republicans of America is written in the everlasting records of national dishonesty, legislative impurity, and general profligacy. If human nature is so good, why is it so wicked? Why is it so wicked? Why is it so wicked? Why is it so wicked?

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.

From the Star Chamber of Threepenny Street, the order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular. The order has gone forth to raise a moral and political war against republican institutions in general, and those of the United States of North America in particular.

Monday Evening, Oct. 31. American Newspaper Press and the New York Herald—American Editor.